

BOW VALLEY RESOURCE

Including Arrowwood, Milo, Queenstown, Shouldice and Mossleigh

Volume 2, No. 39 ARROWWOOD, ALTA., MAY 18, 1933 Subscription $2.00, U.S.A. $2.50

"Talkies" to Be Installed In Arrowwood

One of the busiest men in town these days is Mr. Oberino getting the Phillips Hall ready for the "Talkies" which he will arrange to put on as soon as he can get the hall suitably fixed. Announcement will be made as to when the hall will be open to the public.

Home, School Group Was Formed 30 Years Ago

The following article, written by Dr. George W. Kerby of Mount Royal College, Calgary, gives an account of the formation of the first Parent Teachers Association. It will be recalled that Dr. Kerby was present at Arrowwood when the local organization was first formed.

"G. K. Chesterton, speaking of Watts, the noted painter and artist, said: 'He was never certain that he was successful, never certain that he was great, never certain that he was good, never certain that he was capable, but he was certain that he was right.'"

I am certain I am right when I say that the home and school is one of the most significant educational movements of modern times. Like nearly all the movements of human progress and betterment, it was born in the heart of a woman and for the first few years of its history was fostered and guided by the mother of this continent.

Then the fathers came to realize that they too had obligations and fathers and mothers and teachers began to meet and confer together and so the movement became one in which the home and school, the parent and teacher, joined forces and today are clasping hands and going forward to help solve the problems of a complex age.

In thinking of the home and school we should like to do so for a moment under the symbol of a tree. If we see a tree as the symbol of the movement then we may say

(Continued on page 4)

Crossing the Big Bend of the Columbian River

The motorist entering British Columbia by way of Banff, Lake Louise and the Kicking Horse Trail reaches Golden to find his way apparently barred by a section of as yet uncompleted highway between that point and Revelstoke. The gap, however has been bridged by the railway, and automobile baggage cars are its answer to a direct route to or from the Pacific through Canadian Rockies. During the period from June 15th to September 15th automobiles will be carried over the Selkirk range between these points semi-weekly in each direction.

Automobile baggage cars will be attached to regular passenger train No. 2 eastbound from Revelstoke on Saturday and Tuesday, and to train No. 3 westbound from Golden on Sunday and Wednesday. The train journey between Revelstoke and Golden will be no daylight and there will be no

Important Notice

All Citizens of Arrowwood are requested to remove all rubbish and ashes adjacent to their property as soon as possible. Let everyone assist in this matter and have our town looking neat and clean.

VILLAGE COUNCIL

Buffalo Hill News

Fay Onstad who formerly farmed at Indus is back in the Buffalo Hills working for Dave Lewis.

Wm. Marshall had the misfortune to lose one of his biggest work horses last week. The horse ate seed wheat out of the grain truck.

Mary Buckna whose home is at Coleman, B. C. is back again working for Mrs. Dave Lewis.

Mr. M. P. Marshall is confined to the Vulcan Hospital suffering from a heart attack. At time of writing he has somewhat improved.

What seeding is about 50% done, some nearly finished and others not having done much owing to the delay as a result of the unsettled weather.

It seems the depression is approaching an end. That is if the matrimonial orders are any indications of improved conditions. We expect to be able to announce very soon, another contribution to the above.

Mrs. Alex Mitchell of Sunset Valley district is confined to Vulcan Hospital with a nervous breakdown.

Coming Events

May 24—Gleichen Sports
May 27—Marquis Athletic Club sports day.
June 3—Arrowwood Sports

delay as the automobiles will be carried on the same train as the motorists, and will be available for immediate delivery. Automobiles should be delivered to the Company's Agent at the shipping point at least one hour and 30 minutes prior to departure of the train, or approximately 11:35 a.m. at Revelstoke and 12:45 p.m. at Golden.

A wait at either Golden or Revelstoke need not be looked upon as an unfortunate delay as at both places there are a number of interesting things to see and to do. At Golden there is the inducement to spend the extra hour exploring the delights of Yoho National Park. Mount Revelstoke rising behind the city of Revelstoke gives its name to a national park containing one hundred square miles of magnificent scenery. A road of easy gradients winds upward through the Park for 22 miles to an elevation of 9,500 feet from which an imposing panorama is obtained.

The W. A. Met at the Home of Mrs. J. Mackie

The regular monthly meeting of the W. A. was held at the home of Mrs. J. Mackie on Thursday afternoon, May 11th. There were 16 members and 3 visitors present. Three members were added to the roll.

The meeting opened by the singing of "All the Way My Savior, Leads Me." Mrs. G. Jones read the devotional which was followed by the Lord's Prayer in unison. Business was then dealt with and it was decided to hold a basket sale during the months of July and August. The members are making a quilt which is to be sent to Bonnyville Hospital early in June.

A social will be held the last part of June. Arrangements and date to be announced later. Under Miss Mackie four little girls added greatly to the program and received a hearty applause.

The meeting adjourned and the hostess assisted by Mrs. J. Keiser served a very appetizing lunch.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. R. Hill on June 8th.

Mossleigh News

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Martin are rejoicing in the birth of a daughter.

Ed. Sturm was called home suddenly. He left Friday for Medicine Hat.

Irvine's Service Station is receiving a fresh coat of paint. The new colors will be white and red.

A good crowd turned out on Sunday to see the soft-ball game between Union Jack and Mossleigh. The latter were defeated.

Mr. Bulman of Calgary is the new mechanic in Irvine's garage. His services are highly recommended by General Supplies.

Miss Godkin accompanied by Mrs. C. Stafford motored to Calgary on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Pittman motored to Carleton Place Sunday where Mr. Pittman played ball with the Carleton team against Queenstown.

Mr. Cary and Mr. Lawrence Larsen of Arrowwood were visitors to Mossleigh last Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Macdonald were Calgary visitors on Saturday.

Last Saturday night's dance was well attended and very much enjoyed.

Mr. Yorks of Blackie was a business visitor in town on Monday.

Seeds For Sale—Windsor Broad Beans and Improved Square Corn, 25c per pound, grown locally. Germination guaranteed. Also some good, solid carrots, D. J. Beagle.

Regular Meeting of Arrowwood Council

A meeting of the Arrowwood Town was held Monday, May 9th, with all Councilors present. The minutes of the last meeting were adopted as read.

A letter from the Debt Adjustment Board, in regard to certain tax arrears, was read and ordered filed. The Secretary was ordered to write to the Minister for information on the subject of Tax Consolidation.

A letter from the Consolidated School district was read, in which they refused to make any concession in the taxes due on them on Lot 4, Block E, Plan 7638 D.M. This letter was also placed on file.

Mr. J. Heske, representing the P.T.A. was present to request the Council to put swings and teeter-totters in the Village Park, for the use of the small children, not of school age. The Councilors expressed themselves as being in favor of the idea and will proceed with the work to the extent of $15 for a start.

Accounts presented for approval: Lands Titles office, registration of tax arrears $6.50; Bow Valley Resource, Dog Tax Notice, $15.50; T. S. Board, Salary, $12.50.

The estimates for the current year were set as follows:

Lights	$720.00
Salaries, Sec'y, Auditor and Health Officer	225.00
Sealed	15.00
Road Maintenance	150.00
Parks	15.00
Rent	60.00
Insurance and Bond	45.00
Old Age Pensions	42.00
Office Expense	35.00
School Taxes and School Fair	25.00
Cemetery	10.00
Fire Department	25.00
Incidental Expenses	300.00

Moved by Beagle second Lewendon that to meet this expense the mill rate be set at 12 1/2 mills for municipal and 5 1/2 mills for supplementary revenue tax, and a By-Law passed to that effect. Carried.

Moved Lewendon second Beagle that a discount of 5% be allowed on payment of current general taxes paid before November 1st, 1933 and 2 1/2% on taxes paid between Nov. 1st and Dec. 15th, 1933, and to try renewal of By-Law 30. Carried.

Moved Beagle second Leonard that the secretary notify all land in arrears by registered mail that unless they make some payment on arrears within thirty days from the date of notice the council would take the necessary steps to enforce payment of tax arrears. Carried.

A discussion of tax arrears on Lot 4, Block E, Plan 7638, D.M. followed and Lewendon moved and Leonard seconded a motion that an adjustment be made on the same. Carried.

The meeting then adjourned.

Arrowwood's sports day, June 3rd.

TRAIN SCHEDULE AT GLEICHEN

No. 1 Westbound	8:25 p.m.
No. 3 Westbound	9:45 a.m.
No. 2 Eastbound	4:31 a.m.
No. 4 Eastbound	7:05 p.m.

Arrowwood West bound, Tues., Thurs., 1 p.m. East bound, Wed., Fri., 1:30 p.m.

Arrowwood Notes

Mrs. J. M. Keiser and children were visitors to Gleichen on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Saunders and family were visitors to Okotoks.

Mr. and Mrs. Sutton, of Milo, were guests at the Clifgard home Friday evening.

Mr. E. Ross returned on Tuesday from his holiday trip to the coast.

Are you planning on coming to the Arrowwood Sports Day on June 3rd.

Mrs. Pennell had an operation for removal of tonsils at Dr. Liesemer's Surgery Monday morning.

Born — At Mrs. Lewendon's Nursing Home, on Wednesday, May 17, to Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Smith, Queenstown, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Bayne and Miss E. Clifgard, of Kathryn spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifgard.

Miss Mary McCann of Strathmore, spent Mother's Day at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McCann.

Mrs. R. L. Saunders, of Okotoks, is spending a few days visiting with her son, Mr. R. R. Saunders.

A rainfall of 1 1/2 inch during the past week was recorded by the Searle Grain Co.'s rain gauge.

The Larson Implements have had the front of their garage repainted, which greatly improves the appearance. The colors are white and red.

Please note change in price of strawberry plants in Mr. Lyles' advt. We regret that last week we made a misprint and published the price $3.00 per hundred instead of $2.00 per hundred.

The Brethren Church has secured the services of Rev. John Weand, of Bellefontaine, Ohio, as field man for this district. Mr. Weand is expected to take up his residence in Arrowwood the latter part of June.

For Sale—number of wagons and grain tanks; also two John Deere 14-in. gang plows, everything in good shape. For particulars apply "Resource" Office.

EVERBEARING STRAWBERRIES—mastodon and steath northern Two dollars per hundred. Also Bronze Turkey Eggs, from Grades A and B. One dollar per setting. LYLE FARM, Phone 108

FOR SALE—A small quantity of Gold Nugget Seed Potatoes, white they last, at only 2 cents per lb. Grown from Seager Wheeler's seed, which won numerous prizes for him in the United States and Canada. Bert Starling, Vulcan and Arrowwood post offices.

Visiting Minister at the United Church Next Sunday

Again this year the United Church is observing Rural Life Sunday and the date is May 14th. The matter has been referred to the Presbyteries and Calgary has assigned the following outside men to the city churches for this date:

Central—Rev. F. Foster
Knox—Rev. A. F. Aldridge
Wesley—Rev. E. R. Brundage
St. Paul—Rev. A. D. McDonald
North Hill—Rev. V. M. Gilbert
Pleasant Heights—P. Halstead
Trinity—Rev. E. Longmire
Hillhurst—Rev. H. Horrieks
Parkdale—Dr. McKen Reid
Rev. Rex Brown, of North Hill United will preach at Arrowwood and other points on this field on that date.

Milo Notes

The United Church Ladies' Aid Tea held on Saturday at the home of Mrs. A. Forquih was a decided success. Coffee and tea were served with sandwiches, cake and ice cream from 2 p.m. until 9 p.m.

Service will be held every Sunday evening at 8 o'clock in United Church, conducted by Mr. J. G. Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Melson spent the week-end at Lettbridge.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Nelson were business visitors to Vulcan on Saturday.

We take pleasure in complementing our Minister, Rev. J. G. Brown, on receiving his B.A. from Queen's.

Mrs. Russell Mills returned home last Sunday from Delta.

The funeral service of Mr. Howell, who passed away on May 8th, was held on Friday afternoon in Milo.

The marriage of Miss Jessie Gladys Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Phillips, of Milo, to Mr. Glen L. Palfrey, of Purple Springs, was solemnized on May 6th, Rev. Mr. Pfock, of Okotoks, officiating.

Arrowwood Market Prices

Wheat
1 Northern	45 1/2
2 Northern	43 1/2
3 Northern	42
Oats
1 C.W.	28 1/2
Barley
1 C.W.	41 1/2
Flax
CW	1 06 1/2

Calgary Quotations on Livestock

Good and choice	$3.75 - $4.25
Heifers—
Good and choice	3.50 - 3.00
Cows—
Good	2.25 - 2.75
Good handy wgt.	2.00 - 3.50
Hogs—
Select bacon	5.70
Bacon	5.20
Butchers	4.70

How to get to SLEEP

When you can't sleep, it's because your nerves won't let you. Don't waste time "counting sheep." Don't lose half your needed rest in reading. Take two tablets of Aspirin, drink a glass of water and go to sleep.

This simple remedy is all that's needed to insure a night's rest. It's all you need to relieve a headache during the day—or to dispose of other pains. Get these Aspirin tablets and you will get immediate relief.

Aspirin dissolves immediately—gets to work without delay. This desirable speed is not dangerous; it does not depress the heart. Just be sure you get Aspirin tablets.

ASPRIN

Trade-mark Reg.

HEART OF THE NORTH

By

WILLIAM BYRON BOWERY

(WFO Series)

Copyright by William Byron Bowery

CHAPTER X—Continued.

For a moment, groping about to retrieve his blunder, Buzzard hardly knew what to say or do. There had been no mistake; he had seen that incident with his own eyes when he glanced through the window to find where Alan was. He debated whether to draw back from his statement or to plunge ahead and tell the rest of it—Joyce's momentary battle, the shoulder that swept her whole body when she put the scarf into the stove, and the quick blinding tears that she dashed away.

He thought: "Better not get any deeper into this. It's only blunder again. Better back out entirely."

He stammered: "I might have made a mistake. I might—uh—it might have been the wrapping paper. I just merely saw her put—uh—something into—and I jumped to conclusions. Must have been the wrapper. Why would any person want to burn up a gift like that? Let's forget it!"

His tones carried no conviction. He realized it himself. Alan disbelieved him; Alan knew Joyce had burned the scarf he gave her.

Cursing himself hotly, Buzzard looked out across the purpling river. He had meant only the best, and he had dealt Alan a savagely honest blow. After a little time Alan said to him:

"You'd better go up, Buzzard; she may be waiting for us."

"Aren't you going?"

"No—not now; it's much more care."

"I don't want to suppose."

"Something in his voice warned Buzzard not to urge him. As he turned away, Alan said, in the tones of a man who has made some hard and adding decision:

"When you've had supper, come back down here; I'll help you with that work; we'll do it now, so we can get away early. I was thinking—over this evening—something else. But that's out now."

At three o'clock the next morning

"NOW I FEEL FULL OF PEP"

After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

That's what hundreds of women say. It steadies the nerves... makes you eat better... sleep better... relieves periodic headache... backache... makes trying days endurable.

If you are not as well as you want to be, give this medicine a chance to help you. Get a bottle from your druggist today.

W. N. U. 1992

Buzzard lifted the plane out of the Big Aloosa. With Alan directing him, he headed due north.

One hundred and thirty miles away, nearly four hundred miles from the Yukon, Endurance, a small tribe of Tsimshian lived along the western fringes of the Thali-Azash. They were a timid, skulking, ineffective band, shuddering into a region where other tribes scorned to live. Dave MacMillan had been their friend and they brought him their furs; and Alan, during his years at Endurance, had sent a protective patrol to them twice a year. Joyce had found out where they were spending this summer; and Alan had a mission with their old headman, Mugwa-Etthen.

What the timber country began yielding to lakes and semi-muskeg, he got out his glasses and started searching ahead for their camp. At a height of five thousand feet, he could sweep a region of more than two hundred thousand acres. The eyes of an eagle, the wings of a bullet-swift curlew, and the big-barreled surveying machine gun—through luck and driving purpose and a faith in his dubious plan, he smashed through obstacles till now he held the point and heavy odds over those bands.

The sure knowledge of this was about the time the left engine failed. His work in the Mounted, his life here in the North, were both gone; and Buzzard's catalytic words last evening had showed him that his secret hope toward Joyce had been a fool's hope, a fool's wishful thinking.

How low he must have fallen in her estimation, that he should burn his gift to her! At first it had seemed a little cruel for Joyce to do that. But then he looked at the incident with tolerant honesty, and he could not blame her. Once he and she had planned to marry. People had spoken of them as being generally regarded as a pair along the river. She had liked him, loved him. What must her feelings have been as she watched his relations with Elizabeth, and saw him engaged to another girl and coming no more to the Big Aloosa? That must have felt shame, a burning shame, at the girl's. Month after month of that—it had been an outrage to her girlhood. Nothing she could do to him could be so heartless as what he had done to her.

Through the propleur disk he at last sighted the Indian camp, a cluster of brown leather tents beside a lake where the water was peeling the summer near their fish weirs. Buzzard roared over the camp and banked to alight. Old Mugwa-Etthen, a gaunt and wrinkled old savage, stalked up and glared at him. He was alone. After this frosty season of heavy rains, Alan knew there were a few in the water wilderness of the Thali-Azash where a party of men could camp. But he had only a hazy idea where those areas lay; but this old headman, Mugwa-Etthen, who follows the Caribou, had lived his life along the border of that great marsh and knew it better than any man alive, and could probably give him a pretty definite idea where to look.

Very wisely, Joyce had kept from letting the sound bands know anything about the police defeat. The Thali-Azash maintained order, so gave a territory largely through their reputation of never failing, and the severity of their stingy defeat would do incalculable harm. Joyce had not even told old Mugwa-Etthen.

After pleading the headman to silence, in guttural Tsimshian Alan began sketching the story of the robbery and battle. As he told of the bandit escaping to the Aloosa, he noticed that the old chief suddenly became all interested.

Alan looked at him keenly. "Something's up," he thought. "I've stumbled into something." He demanded: "When I was two three breaths ago you start like hit back. Why?"

Drawing a crude map of the Thali-Azash with his long forefinger, the old headman sprang his astounding news.

Ten suns ago, he said, Tubek and another young buck had gone west into the Land of Many Waters to locate rat colonies for autumn trapping. One evening they heard the boom-boom of fire-sticks far away southwest. Slipping up, timid, cautious, they saw some strange men moving waves for food. They saw a tent, a camp on an island."

For several minutes, fighting down a wild elation, Alan forced himself to couch their asking questions, giving that map and that spot unforgetfully in his mind.

As the wigwags he rejoined Bill. "Come on! Let's be getting into the air! An hour and a half from now we'll be saying it with a machine gun. When we flew up here we brought our luck along."

From his height of three thousand feet, reading the country spread be-keep fit! Headache, nervous depression—banish them all by keeping your system clean with Eno's Fruit Salt every morning.

low him, Alan could follow the crude finger map without "once being in doubt." That should be the great blue-water lake which Mugwa-Etthen had described. It should have islands in the center of it. On one of the islands near the north edge of the cluster the bandits should be camped, if they had not moved on.

"Swing north," he shouted at himself. "Those tablets there to themselves."

The machine swerved and thundered closer. One by one Alan started to search the five. On the first one, nothing. On the second, nothing. On the third... He started suddenly as he caught that center in clear focus. Below them that center, distant, conspicuous to their pilot, stood a solitary dirty white tent.

After a few moments Alan had present of mind again. He leaned forward and shouted instruction: "Drop down to a thousand feet. Fly over that island again, slow. Wait to study it carefully before we start things."

Buzzard dropped down, swung around. As the plane sailed over, a second time, Alan drew the island up in his study the tent sharply, he saw a movement of the flap-front and distinguished a man's face, turned, peering at them.

One bandit there at least! But the others?

They shot into his mind: those others had probably gone hunting for caribou over east at the fable.

As though that watcher there below realized what this ominous circling meant and had become panicky, a puff of white, a single puff, burst from the flap-front. Confident the man was alone and the others were gone, Alan decided to take this bandit alive. He needed information about the others, and information about that pack of fur to clear Dave MacMillan.

While Buzzard circled at a safe distance, he took a page from a memo book and printed: "If you shoot again, we'll splatter you and that island into the lake with our machine guns. Stand out in the clear. No weapons on you. Don't try any crooked move after we light."

He wrapped the message around a monkey-wrench and handed it to Buzzard. From wartime practice of dropping "eggs" on ammunition dumps and "second-thrust" Flammenwerfer on ammunition batteries out in the clear. No weapons on you. Don't try any crooked move after we light."

He strapped the message around a monkey-wrench and handed it to Buzzard. From wartime practice of dropping "eggs" on ammunition dumps and "second-thrust" Flammenwerfer on ammunition batteries out in the clear. No weapons on you. Don't try any crooked move after we light."

As they looked back they saw the man run out to it, read the message, hesitate a moment, and then raise his left arm, waving something white.

A pilot-shot off the island the plane halted. Buzzard stayed in the machine. Alan and Joyce got the canvas canoe, slipped automatically into their pockets, took rides prominently in hand and went ashore.

While Bill searched the beach for a hidden revolver, Alan looked at him curiously. He was a strange character to find in this country. He had his skin olive, he looked as though he had oriental blood in his veins. The rag he had waved in token of surrender was a silf. His right arm dangled limp at his side.

Alan demanded, "Are you the fellow we hit in that fight?"

"Chin," Woolley nodded.

"Are those olive men out hunting?"

"Alan asked, 'or where?'"

Woolley batted his eyes slowly, as though taking thought. "Huntin' for 'em."

"Which way?"

"North-east."

(To Be Continued.)

High Above the Clouds

Test Nations Set Up From Aircraft At Calgary

Canada's knowledge of conditions in the stratosphere high above the clouds has been enriched by recovery of the balloons made by recovery of nine of 16 meteorological balloons released at the Calgary airport last night of August.

Announcement of the recovery of the balloons was made by Lieut.-Commander C. H. Bromley, representative of the Dominion meteorological service at Calgary, who released two of the balloons on the night of the tests, in conjunction with other work being carried on as Canada's share in the international polar year investigations, will be continued until the close of the polar year in August of this year.

Nine miles above the earth—a mile short of the height reached by Professor Auguste Piccard in his balloon ascension to investigate the stratosphere—was the highest any of the balloons released here reached. Some expanded and burst when only three miles high, but the average altitude reached was 40,000 feet—almost eight miles.

"Swing north," he shouted at himself. "Those tablets there to themselves."

The machine swerved and thundered closer. One by one Alan started to search the five. On the first one, nothing. On the second, nothing. On the third... He started suddenly as he caught that center in clear focus. Below them that center, distant, conspicuous to their pilot, stood a solitary dirty white tent.

After a few moments Alan had present of mind again. He leaned forward and shouted instruction: "Drop down to a thousand feet. Fly over that island again, slow. Wait to study it carefully before we start things."

Buzzard dropped down, swung around. As the plane sailed over, a second time, Alan drew the island up in his study the tent sharply, he saw a movement of the flap-front and distinguished a man's face, turned, peering at them.

One bandit there at least! But the others?

They shot into his mind: those others had probably gone hunting for caribou over east at the fable.

As though that watcher there below realized what this ominous circling meant and had become panicky, a puff of white, a single puff, burst from the flap-front. Confident the man was alone and the others were gone, Alan decided to take this bandit alive. He needed information about the others, and information about that pack of fur to clear Dave MacMillan.

While Buzzard circled at a safe distance, he took a page from a memo book and printed: "If you shoot again, we'll splatter you and that island into the lake with our machine guns. Stand out in the clear. No weapons on you. Don't try any crooked move after we light."

He strapped the message around a monkey-wrench and handed it to Buzzard. From wartime practice of dropping "eggs" on ammunition dumps and "second-thrust" Flammenwerfer on ammunition batteries out in the clear. No weapons on you. Don't try any crooked move after we light."

As they looked back they saw the man run out to it, read the message, hesitate a moment, and then raise his left arm, waving something white.

A pilot-shot off the island the plane halted. Buzzard stayed in the machine. Alan and Joyce got the canvas canoe, slipped automatically into their pockets, took rides prominently in hand and went ashore.

While Bill searched the beach for a hidden revolver, Alan looked at him curiously. He was a strange character to find in this country. He had his skin olive, he looked as though he had oriental blood in his veins. The rag he had waved in token of surrender was a silf. His right arm dangled limp at his side.

Alan demanded, "Are you the fellow we hit in that fight?"

"Chin," Woolley nodded.

"Are those olive men out hunting?"

"Alan asked, 'or where?'"

Woolley batted his eyes slowly, as though taking thought. "Huntin' for 'em."

"Which way?"

"North-east."

(To Be Continued.)

Contentment Without Riches

Man Found Peace In Life After Fortune Was Gone

In Newton, Iowa, is a man, Frank F. Falor, 74, who has lived three lives.

At 27 he was known as the richest cattle and purchased swine breeder in the middle west. He wore a silk topper, drove fast horses, and to outdo his neighbors beyond possible doubt hired negro servants to wait on him. That was Life No. 1.

Shortly his success faded. He became penniless, and turned to a man disgraced with life, gloomy and soured with mankind. That was Life No. 2.

He became interested in religion and began to practise it conscientiously. His interests broadened and he started growing flowers about his little shack. He had started Life No. 3.

Today, tucked away among the pine-trees, glass roofs of greenhouses at the outskirts of Newton is the same shack. It has been so built over and around with flower houses and other buildings devoted to horticulture and gardening that few persons realize its presence.

Falor still lives in the shack, although he is worth more money measured by the financial yardstick, than he ever was in Life No. 1.

Falor said that he learned that success and failure, after all, were relative matters, but that peace of mind and happiness were important fragments of life which every person owed to himself.

"This God is for God forever and ever. He will be our guide even unto death."—Psalm 48:14.

He still my soul; thy God dost undertake to guide the future as He has the past; thy hope, thy confidence let nothing shake.

All now mysterious shall be bright at the dawn of our own evil will. He has kept us even from ourselves and saved us from our own undoing. Let us read the traces of his hand in all our ways in all the events, the changes and chances of this troubled state. It is He that rods and feeds us, that makes us to go in and out—to be faint or find pasture, to lie down by the still waters, or to walk by the way that is parched and desert.—H. E. Manning.

He has kept us even from ourselves and saved us from our own undoing. Let us read the traces of his hand in all our ways in all the events, the changes and chances of this troubled state. It is He that rods and feeds us, that makes us to go in and out—to be faint or find pasture, to lie down by the still waters, or to walk by the way that is parched and desert.—H. E. Manning.

He has kept us even from ourselves and saved us from our own undoing. Let us read the traces of his hand in all our ways in all the events, the changes and chances of this troubled state. It is He that rods and feeds us, that makes us to go in and out—to be faint or find pasture, to lie down by the still waters, or to walk by the way that is parched and desert.—H. E. Manning.

He has kept us even from ourselves and saved us from our own undoing. Let us read the traces of his hand in all our ways in all the events, the changes and chances of this troubled state. It is He that rods and feeds us, that makes us to go in and out—to be faint or find pasture, to lie down by the still waters, or to walk by the way that is parched and desert.—H. E. Manning.

He has kept us even from ourselves and saved us from our own undoing. Let us read the traces of his hand in all our ways in all the events, the changes and chances of this troubled state. It is He that rods and feeds us, that makes us to go in and out—to be faint or find pasture, to lie down by the still waters, or to walk by the way that is parched and desert.—H. E. Manning.

He has kept us even from ourselves and saved us from our own undoing. Let us read the traces of his hand in all our ways in all the events, the changes and chances of this troubled state. It is He that rods and feeds us, that makes us to go in and out—to be faint or find pasture, to lie down by the still waters, or to walk by the way that is parched and desert.—H. E. Manning.

He has kept us even from ourselves and saved us from our own undoing. Let us read the traces of his hand in all our ways in all the events, the changes and chances of this troubled state. It is He that rods and feeds us, that makes us to go in and out—to be faint or find pasture, to lie down by the still waters, or to walk by the way that is parched and desert.—H. E. Manning.

He has kept us even from ourselves and saved us from our own undoing. Let us read the traces of his hand in all our ways in all the events, the changes and chances of this troubled state. It is He that rods and feeds us, that makes us to go in and out—to be faint or find pasture, to lie down by the still waters, or to walk by the way that is parched and desert.—H. E. Manning.

He has kept us even from ourselves and saved us from our own undoing. Let us read the traces of his hand in all our ways in all the events, the changes and chances of this troubled state. It is He that rods and feeds us, that makes us to go in and out—to be faint or find pasture, to lie down by the still waters, or to walk by the way that is parched and desert.—H. E. Manning.

He has kept us even from ourselves and saved us from our own undoing. Let us read the traces of his hand in all our ways in all the events, the changes and chances of this troubled state. It is He that rods and feeds us, that makes us to go in and out—to be faint or find pasture, to lie down by the still waters, or to walk by the way that is parched and desert.—H. E. Manning.

He has kept us even from ourselves and saved us from our own undoing. Let us read the traces of his hand in all our ways in all the events, the changes and chances of this troubled state. It is He that rods and feeds us, that makes us to go in and out—to be faint or find pasture, to lie down by the still waters, or to walk by the way that is parched and desert.—H. E. Manning.

He has kept us even from ourselves and saved us from our own undoing. Let us read the traces of his hand in all our ways in all the events, the changes and chances of this troubled state. It is He that rods and feeds us, that makes us to go in and out—to be faint or find pasture, to lie down by the still waters, or to walk by the way that is parched and desert.—H. E. Manning.

He has kept us even from ourselves and saved us from our own undoing. Let us read the traces of his hand in all our ways in all the events, the changes and chances of this troubled state. It is He that rods and feeds us, that makes us to go in and out—to be faint or find pasture, to lie down by the still waters, or to walk by the way that is parched and desert.—H. E. Manning.

He has kept us even from ourselves and saved us from our own undoing. Let us read the traces of his hand in all our ways in all the events, the changes and chances of this troubled state. It is He that rods and feeds us, that makes us to go in and out—to be faint or find pasture, to lie down by the still waters, or to walk by the way that is parched and desert.—H. E. Manning.

He has kept us even from ourselves and saved us from our own undoing. Let us read the traces of his hand in all our ways in all the events, the changes and chances of this troubled state. It is He that rods and feeds us, that makes us to go in and out—to be faint or find pasture, to lie down by the still waters, or to walk by the way that is parched and desert.—H. E. Manning.

He has kept us even from ourselves and saved us from our own undoing. Let us read the traces of his hand in all our ways in all the events, the changes and chances of this troubled state. It is He that rods and feeds us, that makes us to go in and out—to be faint or find pasture, to lie down by the still waters, or to walk by the way that is parched and desert.—H. E. Manning.

He has kept us even from ourselves and saved us from our own undoing. Let us read the traces of his hand in all our ways in all the events, the changes and chances of this troubled state. It is He that rods and feeds us, that makes us to go in and out—to be faint or find pasture, to lie down by the still waters, or to walk by the way that is parched and desert.—H. E. Manning.

He has kept us even from ourselves and saved us from our own undoing. Let us read the traces of his hand in all our ways in all the events, the changes and chances of this troubled state. It is He that rods and feeds us, that makes us to go in and out—to be faint or find pasture, to lie down by the still waters, or to walk by the way that is parched and desert.—H. E. Manning.

He has kept us even from ourselves and saved us from our own undoing. Let us read the traces of his hand in all our ways in all the events, the changes and chances of this troubled state. It is He that rods and feeds us, that makes us to go in and out—to be faint or find pasture, to lie down by the still waters, or to walk by the way that is parched and desert.—H. E. Manning.

He has kept us even from ourselves and saved us from our own undoing. Let us read the traces of his hand in all our ways in all the events, the changes and chances of this troubled state. It is He that rods and feeds us, that makes us to go in and out—to be faint or find pasture, to lie down by the still waters, or to walk by the way that is parched and desert.—H. E. Manning.

He has kept us even from ourselves and saved us from our own undoing. Let us read the traces of his hand in all our ways in all the events, the changes and chances of this troubled state. It is He that rods and feeds us, that makes us to go in and out—to be faint or find pasture, to lie down by the still waters, or to walk by the way that is parched and desert.—H. E. Manning.

He has kept us even from ourselves and saved us from our own undoing. Let us read the traces of his hand in all our ways in all the events, the changes and chances of this troubled state. It is He that rods and feeds us, that makes us to go in and out—to be faint or find pasture, to lie down by the still waters, or to walk by the way that is parched and desert.—H. E. Manning.

He has kept us even from ourselves and saved us from our own undoing. Let us read the traces of his hand in all our ways in all the events, the changes and chances of this troubled state. It is He that rods and feeds us, that makes us to go in and out—to be faint or find pasture, to lie down by the still waters, or to walk by the way that is parched and desert.—H. E. Manning.

He has kept us even from ourselves and saved us from our own undoing. Let us read the traces of his hand in all our ways in all the events, the changes and chances of this troubled state. It is He that rods and feeds us, that makes us to go in and out—to be faint or find pasture, to lie down by the still waters, or to walk by the way that is parched and desert.—H. E. Manning.

He has kept us even from ourselves and saved us from our own undoing. Let us read the traces of his hand in all our ways in all the events, the changes and chances of this troubled state. It is He that rods and feeds us, that makes us to go in and out—to be faint or find pasture, to lie down by the still waters, or to walk by the way that is parched and desert.—H. E. Manning.

He has kept us even from ourselves and saved us from our own undoing. Let us read the traces of his hand in all our ways in all the events, the changes and chances of this troubled state. It is He that rods and feeds us, that makes us to go in and out—to be faint or find pasture, to lie down by the still waters, or to walk by the way that is parched and desert.—H. E. Manning.

He has kept us even from ourselves and saved us from our own undoing. Let us read the traces of his hand in all our ways in all the events, the changes and chances of this troubled state. It is He that rods and feeds us, that makes us to go in and out—to be faint or find pasture, to lie down by the still waters, or to walk by the way that is parched and desert.—H. E. Manning.

He has kept us even from ourselves and saved us from our own undoing. Let us read the traces of his hand in all our ways in all the events, the changes and chances of this troubled state. It is He that rods and feeds us, that makes us to go in and out—to be faint or find pasture, to lie down by the still waters, or to walk by the way that is parched and desert.—H. E. Manning.

He has kept us even from ourselves and saved us from our own undoing. Let us read the traces of his hand in all our ways in all the events, the changes and chances of this troubled state. It is He that rods and feeds us, that makes us to go in and out—to be faint or find pasture, to lie down by the still waters, or to walk by the way that is parched and desert.—H. E. Manning.

He has kept us even from ourselves and saved us from our own undoing. Let us read the traces of his hand in all our ways in all the events, the changes and chances of this troubled state. It is He that rods and feeds us, that makes us to go in and out—to be faint or find pasture, to lie down by the still waters, or to walk by the way that is parched and desert.—H. E. Manning.

He has kept us even from ourselves and saved us from our own undoing. Let us read the traces of his hand in all our ways in all the events, the changes and chances of this troubled state. It is He that rods and feeds us, that makes us to go in and out—to be faint or find pasture, to lie down by the still waters, or to walk by the way that is parched and desert.—H. E. Manning.

He has kept us even from ourselves and saved us from our own undoing. Let us read the traces of his hand in all our ways in all the events, the changes and chances of this troubled state. It is He that rods and feeds us, that makes us to go in and out—to be faint or find pasture, to lie down by the still waters, or to walk by the way that is parched and desert.—H. E. Manning.

He has kept us even from ourselves and saved us from our own undoing. Let us read the traces of his hand in all our ways in all the events, the changes and chances of this troubled state. It is He that rods and feeds us, that makes us to go in and out—to be faint or find pasture, to lie down by the still waters, or to walk by the way that is parched and desert.—H. E. Manning.

There's Ogdens

And Ogden's Fine Cut Cigarette Tobacco is one of the things that make life worth while.

Easy to roll? Yes... but there's more than that to be said for this fragrant, mellow cigarette tobacco.

It's cool and smooth—gives a man everything he wants in a cigarette.

Get a package and learn the whole enjoyable "roll your own" story that Ogden's wants to tell you.

Use "Chanticleer" papers with it.

OGDEN'S FINE CUT

Your pipe knows Ogden's Cut Plug

May Have New Industry

Muchlike Likely To Be Made From Manitoba Black Poplar

Making of mullings from black poplars may be the next development of Manitoba's natural resources.

The Balm of Gilead, once widespread in Manitoba, contains large quantities of gum which may serve as a basis for adhesive. The forest committee of the industrial development board has been authorized to carry out tests on using the product commercially.

Not So Ignorant

Amazing New Guarantee

Year after year Firestone has led the way in giving car owners extra tire values to save them money. Now Firestone gives you an amazing new guarantee which fully protects you for twelve months against any condition that may render a Firestone Tire unfit for further use as a result of blowouts, cuts, bruises or any other road hazard excepting punctures or running the tire flat.

For this alone it would pay you to buy Firestone—but, in addition, Firestone is the only tire that can give you all these extra values:

2 EXTRA CORD PLYS UNDER THE TREAD at NO EXTRA COST

- 1—Two Extra Cords Under the Tread.
- 2—Gum-Dipped Cords.
- 3—Balanced Construction.
- 4—Non-Skid Safety Tread.

As a result of these extra features Firestone gives 35% to 40% longer tire life—no extra cost.

Low Priced Tires. If you want a low priced but dependable tire, ask for the Firestone Oldfield. As good as most first line tires, but costs 20 per cent. less. Made by Firestone and guaranteed for 12 months.

Larsen Implements

House of Service

Arrowwood and Mossleigh

Arrowwood United Church

Rev. V. M. Gilbert, Minister
Sunday, May 21
Rural Life Sunday
10:30 a.m. Church School
11:45 a.m. Morning Worship
Rev. Rex Brown of North Hill United Church, Calgary, will preach.

Church of the Brethren

10:30 a.m. — Sunday School.
11:30 a.m. — Morning.
8:00 p.m. — Evening Service.

E. D. ARCHAMBAULT Barber - Arrowwood

Patronize Home Industry and Keep the Money in Our Own Town
Arrowwood Barber Shop

It is better to have insurance and not need it, than to need it and not have it. See Omer Larsen

53-Piece

Dinner Sets

AT A REAL PRICE
See Our Windows

L. H. Phillips

HARDWARE - Alberta
Arrowwood

Bow Valley Resource Independent.

Published every Thursday morning at Arrowwood, Alberta. Subscription—$2.00 a year in Canada, $2.50 in the United States. Advertising rates furnished on request. All advertising and changes of copy must be in our hands by Wednesday noon.

NORMAN G. CARY,
Editor and Publisher.

Home School Group Formed 30 Years Ago

(Continued from page 1)
that its roots have gone down deep into the life of the people and its branches have spread their sheltering influence over wider and wider areas. This international tree planted years ago numbers now in its membership more than two million people in more than 30 nations and countries who have signified their active interests in the care and training of children in home, school community, and the education of parents to meet their responsibility.

Furthermore it has become plainly evident that the leaves of this tree are for the healing of the nations—that good will and understanding and tolerance and the will to peace are among the inevitable products now being exported to the different nations of the world.

Thirty years ago the pioneers and founders of the P.T.A. movement in North America resolved to make themselves more worthy parents, and to bring all children to their rightful inheritance of a well rounded education. It is said that it takes thirty years for an idea to become thoroughly established and accepted by the people.

Thirty-two years ago the idea of training for parenthood was almost revolutionary. To day it is generally accepted for a fact that children from birth to maturity must be guided by parents trained for this most important and exacting task. Only a few years ago the most popular bulletin

SPECIAL

The New Improved Phantom Kotex With Patented Equalizer
3 Packages for 74c

R. R. Saunders
YOUR DRUGGIST
Kleenex is now 25c per package.

J. M. Weins

McCormick-Deering Farm Machinery

Come in and Let Us Explain the New Wheat Plan

Quaker State, William Penn and North Star Oils

Cutla Percha Tires
Former Line of Tires to Clear At Cost

J. M. WEINS, ARROWWOOD

Acetylene Welding

Aluminum, Steel and Castings of Any Kind

ALL WORK GUARANTEED
Always at Your Service

Dan Vlado
General Blacksmith - Arrowwood

Do Not Miss this OPPORTUNITY

Now is the Time to Build On that Porch, Erect a Good Hay House, or Chicken House
Cost of Material and Labor Was Never Less.
We have material for a short time at the following Prices:

Real Good Shipal at per thousand	$22.00
Real Good Siding at per thousand	$20.00
Roof Boards at per thousand	$20.00
Shingles, per bunch	$.05
Birch Wagon Pole, each $1.50, Better quality	$ 2.25
Real Maple Hardwood for Eyebars and Draw Bars at 15c per square ft.
Oak at correspondingly low prices

Our supply at these prices is limited and may be hard to replace, so be sure you get in on this by getting your requirements early.

Revelstoke Sawmill Co. Ltd.

ARROWWOOD

published by the United States government was on the care of the horse. Today the most popular bulletin is on the care of the child.

Thirty years ago the chasm between the home and the school was an abysmal one. Since that time has come the astonishing rapid development of the Parent Teachers associations and the generally accepted feeling that no school can do its best work without the co-operation of the parents of the pupils. Today the Parent Teacher movement is universally recognized as the largest group of volunteer workers in the world devoted to the welfare of the child in home, church, school and community. Its possible membership may include every adult and its possible influence may reach the life of every boy and girl in the nation.

The Parent Teachers movement is a non-political, non-commercial and non-sectarian one. It seeks to discover the methods and principles which will enable parents, teachers and all other citizens to work together for the improvement of all the conditions which affect child life. It seeks also to strengthen and encourage the work of the teacher by the co-operation of the parent.

The burden of the work of the Parent-Teacher organization is accepted by the parents with the assistance and advice of the teacher. The Parent-Teacher movements brings to the school the moral support of the home.

It offers opportunities to the parents through programs on home training, child-training, literature, current topics of civil or community interest to educate themselves in the great profession of parenthood. It is a channel through which the findings of great specialists in the field of education, hygiene, psychology, mental hygiene and sociology can be passed on in simple form to parents, teachers and the community in general.

It broadens the teachers' viewpoint and benefits the children through the co-operation which is here developed between parent and teacher. It recognizes that the complete activity of the individual begins at birth, and training should begin at that point. It asserts that no health program can produce proper results when it is obliged to take hold of a child more than six years of age, and repair the damage often wrought by six years of neglect and mismanagement.

The home it may be said must become the experiment station of the school. Through conference of parents and teachers, this ideal will be made a reality and may be developed until it completely covers that "no man's land" which now lies between the average home and the average school.

IRVINE'S SERVICE GARAGE

Offers you the opportunity of getting that car or tractor repaired by expert operators at exceptionally LOW PRICES

Come In and Let's Talk It Over
Irvine's Service Station, Mossleigh

Clocks, Watches, Spectacles, Sewing Machines

Typewriters and Gramophones
Cleaned and Repaired by an Expert workman with 40 years' experience in factories, etc.

If you are contemplating the purchase of a new watch see us before doing so.
A. ANDERSON
Jeweler - Arrowwood

Holiday Ahead

Low prices on Goodyear Pathfinders

Replace doubtful, dangerous tires with new, safe Goodyear Pathfinders and have a safe, happy holiday. Note the low prices.

12 months guarantee against defects and road hazards

Genuine GOODYEAR PATHFINDERS
Size 4.40x21	$7.30
Size 4.50x21	$7.85
Size 4.75x19	$9.00
Size 5.00x19	$9.70

Plus 5 per cent Sales Tax

ARROWWOOD GARAGE

R. L. CULP, Proprietor

Arrowwood

Phone 27

Is One of Your Sparks Plugs Getting Weak?

If the spark plugs on your car or tractor are not working properly you are losing both money and power. Come in and have them tested by a machine that shows how they work under Pressure—no guesswork with this machine. It is absolutely correct and is waiting here to save you money.

We've an expert Acetylene Welder whose services are always at your command.

Spark Plugs Are Now Down to 75 Cents

ARROWWOOD GARAGE

R. L. Culp, Chevrolet Dealer

MRS. E. LEWENDON

Licensed Nursing Home Moderate Rates

ARROWWOOD - ALTA.

Milk or Cream

Any Quantity—Any Time
RATES FOR QUANTITY LOTS
Subscriptions Discounted

Phone Orders to the Vancil Family 415
ARROWWOOD DAIRY

WAGIN' TUNG

Vol. 2, No. 39 - Arrowwood, May 18, 1933 - Items for Thot

One Thing That Will Bring More People to Our Fair City

Mr. Ubertino, a man of much experience in the movie business, has arranged to install the "talkies" in Phillips' Hall in Arrowwood and will show every Saturday evening.

Arrowwood is fortunate to secure this attraction and the business men should get behind this enterprise to a man, as we will now be able to enjoy the same entertainment at home that is being put on in the larger cities—We say, welcome, Mr. Ubertino!

It doesn't matter whether you need power to pump water, turn the churn or cream separator, or run the washing machine, one of our John Deer Engines—no simple child can operate it.

We are busy but we will find time to attend to your wants in the hauling line. Remember we haul anything anywhere, anytime.

For dependable lubrication you can do no better than use British American Automobiles—life savers for your gasoline engines. Quality and prices are right.

Gasoline Boy! When ah kisses mah wife shig jes closes her eyes so right.

Sambo (with enthusiasm): Ah'll say she do.
Rastus: What's dat?
Sambo (not so enthusiastically): Ah says; do she?

Good Equipment Makes a Good Farmer Better

Larsen Implements

"House of Service"

ARROWWOOD AND MOSSLEIGH